

Development Internship

826 Boston employs a group of enthusiastic, dedicated interns for the fall, spring and summer semesters. Interns will work individually and collectively with each other, our staff of nine full-time employees, and a large group of volunteers.

Development Interns join 826 Boston's Development Team, supporting staff in raising money, forming partnerships, and assisting in the reporting/data/research that keeps an organization healthy. This is an opportunity to get experience in creative arts education, learn about the day-to-day operations of a small non-profit, and join the network of national 826 chapters while building job skills, advancing your resume, and acquiring excellent references. Applicants must be over the age of 18 but need not be currently enrolled in an academic program.

Development Interns commit to 16 hours per week of unpaid work for a minimum of three months. Named one of GOOD magazine's "30 Places We Want to Work," 826 Boston is a vibrant work environment, bustling with staff, interns, students, and volunteers.

About 826 Boston:

826 Boston is a nonprofit youth writing and publishing organization that empowers traditionally underserved students ages 6-18 to find their voices, tell their stories, and gain communication skills to succeed in school and in life. Our services are structured around the understanding that great leaps in learning can happen with one-on-one attention and that strong writing skills are fundamental to future success. With this understanding in mind, we provide after-school tutoring, field trips, creative writing workshops, in-school tutoring, help for English Language Learners, and in-depth publishing projects. 826 Boston is part of a national network of youth writing centers, founded by the award-winning author Dave Eggers. Since opening in 2007, 826 Boston has delivered its free youth writing and tutoring programs to over 16,000 students and has been recognized by The Boston Globe as one of the best places in the city to volunteer. 826 Boston's youth writers have published their work in The New York Times, The Boston Globe, and in numerous award-winning 826 Boston books, including A Place for Me in the World, which was hailed as a "triumph of middle school education" by The Boston Globe. In 2014, the 826 network garnered the American Literacy Prize from the Library of Congress for its pioneering work to eradicate illiteracy in the United States.

826 Boston is an equal opportunity employer committed to being a multicultural organization. Candidates from diverse backgrounds are encouraged to apply. For more information, please visit <http://www.826boston.org>.

Our ideal candidate has:

- Enthusiastic belief in the mission of 826 Boston as evidenced by a passion for writing and working with youth
- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Strong organizational skills and the ability to multi-task
- Attention to detail that is deeply rooted and includes the ability to check your own work.

- Fearless attitude toward meeting new people, learning new software, and gaining new experiences. Every day is different, but every day, our intern support the organization in countless ways. Appreciation that small details make a big difference.
- Ability to take feedback and adjust accordingly. For many projects, the willingness to take the lead is important. In other projects, interns will be shadowing and following experienced staff to gain skills.
- Proven track record or collaboration/teamwork.
- Leadership background that includes taking a project from beginning to end.
- Perseverance and ability to push through challenges, as evidenced in life, academics, leadership or work experience.
- Retail experience is a plus, but not required.

What you'll do:

- Write, edit, and research grants with the assistance of the Communications and Grants Manager. Steward the relationships with our grant funders through updates, invitations to events.
- Pursue and maintain partnerships that 826 Boston values: with corporations, educational institutions, other non-profit organizations, and vendors.
- Help to oversee the databases that track and record contributions from funders (institutional and individual).
- Help to oversee our quirky store, which is the literal front door and first impression to the organization, as well as source of funds for the free youth programs we offer. One or two store shifts/week with training included on point-of-sale software and retail inventory management.

Estimated start date is in June
